

What is an animated fountain?

An animated fountain is a fountain that changes its display over a pre set time. (It can be just the spray patterns or in this case the spray height and lights) As our example below shows. First the jets are low, then they get higher, then higher still, then the process starts again. This takes place over a pre determined time, You could have several different nozzles starting at different times or changing their heights, our example only shows a basic animated fountain, but it shows what an animated fountain is. A musical fountain is similar to an animated fountain but the changes are in time to music. The sequence shown below takes approximately one minute, then it starts again.
